PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE
Carole A. Adams

As you may remember, my message in the March Skimmer closed with "Spring will arrive." As you read this Skimmer, keep in mind I'm writing in early March — during just another winter snowstorm. I watch from my upstairs window as male sparrows display and posture in competition for mates; male cardinals sing their beautiful songs and cock their heads to and fro, also trying to attract a female of the species; and mockingbirds frantically declare their territories. All the birds are quite vocal and demonstrative, quickly catching one's attention. My nesting boxes and birdhouses get a good cleaning and much needed repair for their new residents. Spring is happening. Contrary to our calendars, spring started happening for our winged friends back in mid-February. Elliott Kutner can expand on that piece of information on a Sunday morning bird walk.

Our bird walks suffered from the cold and record-breaking snowy winter weather. We finally had a promising Sunday morning, if only the wind wasn't so mean. The weather actually reduced us to singing "When The Saints Go Marching In" to flush out Black-crowned Night Herons. Needless to say, they never surfaced. The cold winds kept them hunkered down, so 35 loyal bird walkers, braving the winds at Zach's Bay, saw a grand total of five species of birds (that's not counting the roosters). We were a little disappointed in the few bird sightings, but totally enjoyed each other's company, catching up and sharing winter vacation stories and spring plans. I know I speak for others when I say "I love our bird walks."

Enough reminiscing. On Saturday, April 20th, we will be joining Tackapausha Museum and several other groups in the celebration of Earth Day '96 at Eisenhower Park. We certainly look forward to all our members, friends, and families joining us. I am sure there will be several activities and displays to pique your interest.

The following weekend, our friends at North Fork Audubon Society have extended an invitation to all the members of Long Island's Audubon chapters to join them in a Raptor Symposium at Southold High School. National Audubon's Marilyn England will be lecturing on Northern Harriers along with a host of other noted speakers. Give Mary Mulcahy a call at 477-9413 if you're interested in attending this event, which includes Sunday bird walks (cost is $15 per adult for the weekend, half-price for kids; $20 at the door).

If you read last month's Skimmer, you couldn't help but be disturbed by the list of environmental budget cuts approved by Congress. We MUST keep the pressure on, by writing letters, sending postcards, making phone calls, and/or sending e-mail. Your membership in National Audubon Society (preferably South Shore Audubon chapter) also helps more than you might be aware. Your membership dollars support efforts to protect the future of our environment and the actual membership numbers represent a voice in local, state, and national issues. I will be encouraging a membership drive for our chapter to continue our growth and maintain our strength. Your membership is a demonstration of your concern for the

SPEAKER: David McNicholas
TOPIC: Spring Birds Taken By Adrian Dignam

A magical program of slides taken by Adrian Dignam, an old friend of South Shore Audubon and a longtime birder from Long Island whose pictures have appeared on the covers of American Birds magazine.

David, Adrian's nephew, has selected spring highlights from a collection of 28,000 slides. This program is obviously a labor of love and is a must-see for all of us.

future of our environment. Your participation in the Armchair Activist program is an active demonstration of your concern.

Join now if you're not a member. If you are, keep your membership status active. These are critical times for our environment and you play a vital role in determining the environmental future. I look forward to your calls and seeing you out there on our (now that the weather is nicer) weekly bird walks and at our monthly meetings. Thank you for taking time to read the Skimmer.

LISTEN TO THE SONGBIRDS WORKSHOPS

In exploring the relationship between Great Northern Forest health and songbird populations, National Audubon hosted a conference in April 1995 entitled Songs From the Deep Woods.

The Listen to the Songbirds workshops will bring together Audubon and local bird club leaders, environmental educators, scientists, private business interests, and local community leaders to discuss the findings from the conference. The workshops will also be a forum to solicit local information on trends and populations of songbirds, as well as the economic and quality of life value they provide to individual communities. Participants will be encouraged to share their thoughts on public and private strategies to help ensure healthy populations of songbirds for generations to come.

Ten workshops are being held between March 19th and April 10th; the one closest to Long Island will be hosted by New York City Audubon Society and take place in National Audubon’s headquarters’ 9th floor conference room at 700 Broadway on April 10th at 7 P.M. To register or to receive a copy of the Songs From the Deep Woods conference summary, send your name, organization (if any), address, and phone number to National Audubon Society, 1789 Western Ave., Albany, NY 12203, or call them at (518) 869-9731.

CONSERVATION REPORT
Betty Borowsky

Those of you who wrote to the governor and your representatives urging them not to support the Allegany State Park management plan proposed by the New York State Office of Parks and Recreation will be gratified to learn that Governor Pataki “killed it” on February 11th. One part of the proposed plan would have mandated silvicultural management by systematic logging of approximately 584 acres of the park per year for 30 years. Governor Pataki has indicated he will not even allow this until a ten year ecological study to evaluate its effects is completed. In New York’s history, commercial logging has never been allowed in any state park.

Allegany State Park, the largest New York State park, occupies about 67,000 acres in western New York, on the Pennsylvania border. It is actually only part of a larger forest ecosystem, because it abuts another 500,000 acres of managed forest in the Allegheny National Forest in Pennsylvania.

Conservation scientists generally agree that the best management plan for the area is to allow as many acres as possible to revert to “natural areas,” or old growth forests. Old growth forests, with their variety of plants in all life stages, including fallen logs, are the best way to encourage biodiversity and, ultimately, to conserve soil, water, and wildlife, not to mention the beauty of the park.

As short a time ago as November 30, 1995, a press release from the New York State Representative of the National Audubon Society said that she “still anticipated that the final management plan would call for some degree of logging under the banner of wildlife and forest management.” In addition, in the face of draconian developmental initiatives in the forest, a Legislative Resolution of the Audubon Council of New York State proposed a much softer recommendation than Pataki actually was able to effect.

Governor Pataki’s action is wonderful news not only for the park, but also for what it says about the governor’s attitude toward conservation issues. Before his election, he had been very supportive of environmental conservation initiatives; since then, his intentions have not been clear — saying that he supported the environment, but not taking a strong stance against those interests that would damage it. We are reassured.

It is very likely that the governor felt surer of his decision with your (and, of course, many other citizens’) support behind him. I think it’s important to tell him we appreciate his stance on this occasion; I would urge you to write and thank him.

TAPE-RECORDED UPDATES FROM WASHINGTON, DC
NINTH ANNUAL
SOUTH SHORE AUDUBON BIRDATHON
Doreen Remsen & James Remsen, Jr.

On the evening of May 10th and during the day on May 11th (rain dates May 17/18), the South Shore Audubon Society will take part in the 1996 Audubon Birdathon. Our members will use their birding skills to raise funds for South Shore’s local programs here in Nassau as well as national environmental research, education, and action programs by getting sponsors who will pledge a certain amount for each species they see on Birdathon day.

This year, the official Birdathon count period will start at 5:00 P.M. May 10th and continue until 5:00 P.M. on May 11th. Starting points and times for our Birdathon teams are as follows:

Team 1. Leaders: Carole Adams (731-4425) and Elliott Kutner (486-7667). Meet at Mill Pond, Merrick Road, Wantagh, 5:00 P.M. May 10th or at Jamaica Bay Wildlife Refuge 8:00 A.M. May 11th.

Team 2. Leader: Paul Butkereit (623-0843). Meet at Jones Beach Coast Guard Station 5:00 P.M. May 10th or at Hempstead Lake State Park 6:30 A.M. May 11th.

Team 3. Leaders: James Remsen (764-5168) and Joe Grupp (481-4208). Meet at Massapequa Preserve, LIRR parking lot, 5:00 P.M. May 10th; Mill Pond, Merrick Road, Wantagh, 5:45 A.M. May 11th; or at Muttontown Preserve (exact time TBA but probably 8:00 A.M.) May 11th. Muttontown meeting time will be confirmed a few weeks before the Birdathon; call Jim Remsen or see him at bird walks or meetings if you plan on coming to Muttontown Preserve.

People wishing to participate should notify either the leader of their chosen team or the Birdathon chairpersons in advance of the event. The teams will move, at their discretion, from location to location throughout the day. Participants may leave at will. Members unable to attend on Birdathon day should feel free to seek pledges and count whatever birds they see, wherever they happen to be that day, and forward their pledges and bird lists to the Birdathon chairpersons.

We would like each member to be an active Birdatheron, a sponsor in his/her own right, and a recruiter of additional sponsors from both within and without the South Shore Audubon Society.

Sponsors will be expected to pledge the amount of their choice (25¢, $1, or other amount) per species identified by the Birdatheron and his/her team. A preselected sum, pledged regardless of number of species seen, is also acceptable.

Birdatheroners will be responsible for notifying sponsors after the Birdathon, collecting their checks (made payable to South Shore Audubon Society), and forwarding them with their sponsor pledge form(s) to the Birdathon Chairpersons by June 5, 1996. Those bringing in the largest number of sponsors, as well as the largest dollar amount, will be recognized and awarded prizes at our June dinner.

Additional sponsor pledge forms and information will be available at meetings, bird walks, or by contacting Doreen Remsen, 865 1-2B Broadway Ave., Holbrook, NY 11741, phone 472-6830; or James Remsen, Jr., 3264 Park Ave., Oceanside, NY 11572, phone 764-5168 (after 7:30 P.M.).

BROOKSIDE CLEANUP ON MARCH 30th

Brookside Preserve is a 20-acre freshwater wetland, woodland, and upland field area owned by Nassau County and managed by SSAS. Our annual spring cleanup will be held from 9 a.m. until noon, rain or shine. Bring gloves and volunteers of all ages (and boots if you’d like to wade into Millburn Creek and help retrieve some of the widely varied forms of debris sent to us by the civilization upstream).

The Preserve is located on the Freeport—Baldwin border; park at the main entrance on Brookside Avenue just north of Sunrise Highway (turn north at the traffic light that’s just east of Freeport High School).

The Brookside Committee’s next meeting is scheduled for April 23rd at 7:30 P.M. in Merrick; call Betsy Gulotta at 546-8841 if you’d like to attend. Also, volunteers are very much needed to lead school groups through Brookside using the trail guides produced by SSAS; a tour guide training session is scheduled for April 13th at 10 a.m. — please call Betsy.

COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP

South Shore Audubon Society will be awarding a $500 scholarship to someone who will be a junior, senior, or graduate student this fall at any college. Applicants must be working on a degree in an area related to the environment, such as ecology, marine biology, forestry, ornithology, mammalogy, or animal behavior. For information, contact Betsy Gulotta very soon at 546-8841; the deadline to apply is April 10th.

PATAKI’S PROPOSED 1996 BUDGET

[Editor’s Note: The following is excerpted from an alert issued by the Emergency Committee to Save New York’s Environment, a coalition of statewide and regional environmental groups. The budget isn’t expected to be approved until after Earth Day Lobby Day, so read the invitation to visit Albany provided by National Audubon’s NYS Legislative Representative, Suzanna Dwyer, that appears on the next page (for the record, Suzanna’s design has been mimicked by me, since I ran into an out-of-order computer when I asked a coworker to scan and resize her better-looking original), sign up to be a letter-writing Armchair Activist (call Mary Jane Russell at 766-7397, who will send you free legislative info on National Audubon’s monthly state or federal issue), and/or call the 800 numbers in this and every Skimmer.]

Governor Pataki’s 1996 Budget Will Harm New York’s Environment and Citizens — Contact Your State Legislator Today!

Governor Pataki’s proposed budget cuts for 1996 will have a devastating impact on New York's environment and the health and safety of its citizens. Please call the Governor, Speaker, Majority Leader, and your local legislators to oppose the cuts at 1-800-767-6336 and mail them a letter.

Write to Governor George Pataki, Executive Chamber, State Capitol, Albany, NY 12224; Senate Majority Leader Joseph Bruno, Room 330, State Capitol, Albany, NY 12247; and Assembly Speaker Sheldon Silver, Room 349, State Capitol, Albany, NY 12248; also, please contact your own State Senator and Assemblymember (same addresses as for Bruno and Silver, respectively, omitting room numbers).

- Governor Pataki’s cuts would seriously weaken many environmental programs including air and water quality, land protection, monitoring and enforcement of polluting industries, and the cleanup of leaking waste dumps. The Department of Environmental Conservation, alone, is targeted for $205 staff cuts plus significant reductions in “non-personal service” which includes supplies, equipment, travel, and contractual services. Major impacts of these proposed cuts include [the first eight items here are DEC cuts; for space reasons, I’ve omitted the details on everything except the Environmental Protection Fund]:
  - A 31% reduction in staff and a 20% reduction in non-personal services at the Divisions of Air and Water Resources.
  - A 29% reduction in staff and a 32% reduction in non-personal services at the Divisions of Solid, Hazardous Materials & Hazardous Waste Remediation.
  - A 16% reduction in environmental enforcement staff. Enforcement will be seriously jeopardized. For instance, the Hudson Valley’s Region 3 has over 1200 cases awaiting enforcement or permitting action and their legal staff has already been essentially cut in half.
  - A 12% cut in Fish and Wildlife and 2% cuts in Lands and Forests will degrade programs to protect New York’s forests, parks, fish, and wildlife.
  - A 15-person reduction (4 from Fish and Wildlife, 4 from Marine Resources, and 7 from Regulatory Services) will leave no effective mechanism to protect our wetlands.
  - DEC on-site monitoring staff at hazardous and solid waste facilities are targeted for major cuts.
  - The Governor’s proposed cuts will make a rigorous environmental permitting program virtually impossible. According to Commissioner Zagata, DEC will now use general permits for an increasing number of environmentally harmful actions.
  - $10,000 to publish the Toxics Release Inventory report is targeted for elimination.
  - Environmental Protection Fund. Governor Pataki would divert a third of the $100 million EPF for non-Fund purposes. Legitimate needs — open space protection, waste reduction and recycling, and landfill closure — already exceed the amount of funds available, without piling on personnel costs, or an unnecessary tire study, and remediation at state facilities, as the Governor’s plan proposes. [Also, any money not used would be returned to the state’s general fund rather than kept in the EPF for next year. Of the $24.5 million set aside for land acquisition, approximately $20 million is already committed for two projects, the Long Island Pine Barrens and Sterling Forest.]
  - Adirondack Park Agency. Under the Governor’s proposal, the already lean APA would lose 16% of its 62-person staff.
  - Transportation. The Governor’s proposed transportation budget leaves most of the state’s mass transit programs shortchanged.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT SANCTUARY
134 Cove Road
Oyster Bay, NY 11771
(516) 922-3200

Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Bird Sanctuary is owned by the National Audubon Society and operated by the Community and three local Audubon chapters, including South Shore Audubon. The following programs are open to the public. Space is limited and registration is required. All program fees are required at the time of registration.

Saturday, April 6th (1 to 2:30 P.M.) — Eggcetera. An “egg”citing program for the whole family. We’ll discuss the many different types of eggs and will meet some of the animals which lay them. You’ll even create and camouflage your own egg. TRS members $4, nonmembers $6.

Tuesday, April 9th through Friday, April 12th (9 A.M. to 1 P.M.) — Spring Nature Camp. Children grades PK–4th can have a fun and educational vacation while taking hikes, playing cooperative games, participating in nature activities, and coming face-to-face with our live wildlife. TRS members $100, nonmembers $110.

Wednesday, April 10th (7:30 to 9:30 P.M., adults) — Owl Prowl. Learn about owl identification and natural history with six live owls in the hand and then hike with us to find wild ones. TRS members $5, nonmembers $7.

Expert Birders Needed. We will be conducting migratory forest bird research at four key points on the north shore of Long Island in late April and all of May. We will also be running a special banding station and breeding bird census of some nearby property in June, July, and August. We are relying upon some bird-watchers to come forward and volunteer. Competent sight identification of migrating birds and local breeders is required and song identification is a big plus. Volunteers must be reliable and available at least one day each week. Call the Sanctuary and ask for Randall Moore or Mary Richard if you are interested. This could be a great way for you to get involved in important research about Long Island’s bird populations.

SSAS Visits TRS. On Saturday, May 4th, from 9:30 A.M. until about 12:30 P.M., our chapter will visit TRS in order to watch their songbird banding station in action at a time when there should be plenty of migrating warblers and other songbirds. In the event of rain, an indoor live animal program will be substituted. The Sanctuary is adjacent to President Roosevelt’s grave (in Young’s Memorial Cemetery) and about a mile from Sagamore Hill National Historical Site. Take the Long Island Expressway to Exit 41 north, take Route 106 to the village of Oyster Bay, make a right turn on East Main Street, and go 1-1/2 miles; you will see signs for TRS parking. The gravel parking lot is on your right, followed by the Sanctuary’s entrance.
OUR 25th ANNUAL DINNER

One of SSAS’s longest-running traditions will continue on Tuesday, June 11th, when our annual dinner will once again be held at Pompeii Restaurant and Catering in West Hempstead. Cocktail hour starts at 6:30, with dinner (filet of sole arreganata, chicken francese, eggplant rollatini, roast beef, broiled sole, or broiled chicken) starting at 7:30. The cost will remain $20 per person and the registration form will appear in the next two Skimmers. This year, we will not be accepting payment at the door, so please hold the date and watch for the next newsletter (if you ask the post office to hold your mail or your address changes, keep in mind that the post office doesn’t forward third class mail, but charges SSAS $2 to return an “address corrected” Skimmer; call your editor after 7:30 P.M. for any missing issue).

GARDEN CITY BIRD SANCTUARY EVENTS

As mentioned in last month’s President’s message, SSAS now has a contract with Nassau County regarding use and occupancy of the Garden City Bird Sanctuary/Nature Refuge that was created at Nassau County Stomwater Basin #232 by Rob Alvey and his Garden City Environmental Advisory Board’s Land Use Committee, with help from SSAS. The Sanctuary is located on Tanners Pond Road between the LIRR tracks and Colonial Avenue; for further information, contact Rob Alvey, 44 Fenimore Ave., Garden City, NY 11530, phone 326-1720.

Saturday, April 6th (11 A.M. to 4 P.M.) — Litter & Debris Removal. A major effort is needed to remove the immense quantity of litter and debris, and prepare sections for planting later in the month. Rakes, work gloves, garbage bags, wheelbarrow, and pruners needed.

Saturday, April 20th (11 A.M. to 4 P.M.) — Tree Seeding Planting. Scout and school groups are scheduled to plant a NYSDEC shipment of 380 tree and shrub seedlings, install nesting boxes, and complete slope repair and a trail section. Volunteers are welcome.

Monday, April 22nd (8 to 9:30 P.M.) — Public Meeting. Public meeting at the Garden City Library, 60 7th Street, on the status and development of the Bird Sanctuary.

Saturday, April 27th (10 A.M. to 4 P.M.) — Arbor Day Community Planting Dedication. Community planting of tree seedlings and shrubs will take place, with final installation of nesting boxes. A brief dedication ceremony will be held at 2 P.M. to note the “formal” establishment of the Bird Sanctuary. Community supporters, guests, and hopefully about 100 boy and girl scouts will participate, with all Audubon Society members invited.

NYS OFFICE OF PARKS AND WRECKREATION

[Editor’s Note: Although Governor Pataki has blocked the New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation’s attempt to introduce commercial logging into one of our state parks (see Betty Borowsky’s Conservation Report), the OPRHP continues to inspire Armchair Activist letters of the month and National Audubon Albany hotline messages. The following is taken from the much more detailed March letter of the month, the new spelling of recreation comes from The Green Sheet, published by Environmental Advocates.]

A proposal to blast a truck route (also known as a bypass) through a wildlife-rich wetland located within Saratoga Spa State Park’s southern boundary has gained favor over the years, especially from those with an eye toward industrial expansion of the city of Saratoga Springs’ west side. Fortunately, for years this proposal was resisted by Park stewards. Then, Governor Pataki’s Parks Commissioner Bernadette Castro and her deputies suggested that the agency would no longer rule out this truck route proposal even though it was through one of the Park’s most wild and vulnerable sections.

Senate Majority Leader Joe Bruno, whose district includes the Spa Park, promised to find the estimated $8–11 million needed for the new road in this year’s state transportation budget.

Park officials refuse to rule out this proposed scarring of public parklands despite the damage the road would cause to a wetland inhabited by Great Blue Herons (pictured), Wood Ducks, and Red-shouldered Hawks. Instead, they stress the need to cooperate with local business leaders in order to finance the agency’s aging park infrastructure.

Because our state parks belong to all of us, and because so many New Yorkers visit Saratoga Springs each year and add generously to the local economy, your opinions do count! We ask you to make your voices heard, write to Governor Pataki, Commissioner Bernadette Castro (Office of Parks, Agency Building 1, Empire State Plaza, Albany, NY 12238), and Senator Joseph Bruno (please see the budget article for the other addresses).

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS

Marion Yavarkovsky

We are pleased to welcome this month’s new members and hope you will attend our free general meetings and bird walks, and our special events. Two-hour general meetings are held on the second Tuesday of every month from September through May at the Freeport Memorial Library. The block-long library is located on the north side of Merrick Road between S. Ocean Ave. and S. Bergen Pl., one block west of the post office and over a mile west of the Meadowbrook Parkway. If you’re traveling east on Sunrise Highway, Bergen is at the east end of the block containing Barash Oldsmobile, Paul Conte Cadillac, and then Texaco; heading west, Bergen’s the first legal left turn after Sunrise Highway curves right and left (east of the train station and most of the stores). There’s a parking lot on the north side of the library (with meters that don’t have to be fed at night).

[For information on joining the South Shore Audubon Society, please call our Membership Chairperson, Marion Yavarkovsky, at 379-2090. The best time to call is after 4 P.M., Monday through Friday.]

BUS TRIP TO BRIGANTINE

On Saturday, June 1st, SSAS will once again be visiting the Brigantine Division of Edwin B. Forsythe National Wildlife Refuge on the Atlantic Coast in southern New Jersey, to catch the peak of the spring shorebird migration. A Bird Watcher’s Digest survey in which over 1000 Christmas Bird Count participants listed their five favorite sites in North America resulted in Brigantine being ranked ninth among the November/December 1994 issue’s top 12 birding sites (the others were, in order, Southeast Arizona, Texas’ Rio Grande Valley, Florida’s Everglades National Park, the Texas coast, New Jersey’s Cape May, Ontario’s Point Pelee, Texas’ Big Bend National Park, California’s Point Reyes, Texas’ High Island, Pennsylvania’s Hawk Mountain Sanctuary, and Kansas’ Cheyenne Bottoms).

The coach will leave from the Merrick Park Golf Course parking lot at 7 A.M. and return at approximately 7:30 P.M. The cost is $18 per person; bring your own lunch. To sign-up, be one of the first 40 people to send the following form and a check payable to South Shore Audubon Society to Diane Singer, 118 Kent Road, Valley Stream, NY 11580. The bus was one-third full as of early March; we need 27 more people by May 1st to fill the bus and confirm the trip (SSAS doesn’t subsidize bus trips). The Merrick Park Golf Course is located on the south side of Merrick Road in Merrick, just east of the Meadowbrook Parkway.
